

August News

As we wrap up our last month of summer, and we approach the reopening of schools in Hamilton County, WG wants to keep you updated on some things you need to know!

Reopening of Hamilton County Schools

Our community is optimistic about the reopening of Hamilton County schools this Wednesday, August 12th. Hamilton and Knox counties are the two largest school districts in Tennessee that are facilitating in-person learning before Labor Day.

We have seen a decline in transmission through early August, and we are hopeful that with strict sanitation guidelines, and social distancing procedures, that this can be beneficial for our students.

Covid-19 Update

With a statewide mask mandate currently in effect, it is VERY important to keep your mask on whenever you are in public.

Wearing a face mask has been proven to reduce your risk of being exposed to the virus by more than 33%, and is the best tool you have to defend yourself.

Wear a Mask - Save a Life.
